Did you know...

- More and more business is being put out to tender and businesses like you have to compete more regularly - even to retain business you've had for years?
- A winning tender must be compliant and competitive and your old boys and girls networks, past performances, and all the tricks in the book are no longer sufficient on their own?
- Horsell Consulting has many years of experience in both government and private tendering and can ensure your response/bid is presented for your best opportunity?

We're here to help...

And being a small business, our support is tailored to suit your unique requirements.

We provide your organisation with:

- The knowledge to determine if a tender should be bid or not,
- The skills to respond with a compliant and competitive bid, and
- The understanding to negotiate and implement rewarding contracts.

It is not about applying for every tender in the hope that you win one or two...

... It is the skill of determining the tender with the best chance of success and reward and responding with quality and timely information.
